

Studio 84

We specialize in the creative development of people with disabilities. Our programming in the arts includes day programs and vocational programs.

Potential CBL Partnerships

- Work with a marketing team for marketing plan for online and in store sales of art.
- Work with design/engineering team for development of specialized equipment for artists to create art who have physical disabilities.
- Work with an organization or a class for collaborative fundraising program that would benefit several organizations in the community.

Main Objectives for CBL Partnership

Our main objectives for a CBL Partnership are to include students in a real-life situation that can benefit our organization and the community they currently live in. Our hope is that these students can proudly say they made a difference with the partnership.

We could us help with a solid marketing plan to increase sales for our artists in store and online, within a very limited budget.

Since we are a very small organization with limited fundraising abilities and manpower, assistance with a good plan/program or fundraiser that uses collaboration with a UWW org and/or other community orgs so we have more man power to do a larger fundraising event. We heard that the Accounting Club is really good with fundraisers!

We have many artists with physical disabilities that would benefit from equipment that could make them more independent with their art. We'd love to work with a team that would analyze the need, design and build equipment for these artists.
