

Inclusivity and Fostering Civil Dialogues Workshops

2023-2024

Presented by UWW LEARN Center

As part of UWW's Freedom of Speech and Fostering Civil Dialogue initiative for 2023-2024, the UWW LEARN Center is proud to announce two exciting partnerships:

LEARN and the UWW NCBI Leadership Team are partnering to sponsor a workshop on

Conversing on Controversial Issues in the Classroom

Friday, November 10th, 9:30-12:30, UC 266

The NCBI controversial issues process helps individuals and groups to move hotly contested issues forward by teaching how to listen to concerns on all sides and reframe debates in ways that build bridges. The workshop uses role play, case studies, and shared experiences to help faculty, staff, and students expand their ability to address controversial issues in a way that fosters shared learning.

This workshop is open to faculty, staff, and students.

To register: <https://my.uww.edu/SignUp/Registration/Details/17550>

LEARN and Dr. Jolly Emery, UWW Department of Politics, Government, and Law are partnering to sponsor a panel discussion on Academic Freedom and the Freedom of Speech on Campus: What are your rights?

Thursday, Nov 16th, 3:30-4:30, Hyland Hall 2101

Dr. Jolly Emery, Department of Politics Government and Law, Dr. Wade Tillet, Faculty Senate Representative, and Andy Browning, Assistant Dean of Students will serve as panelists. The panel discussion and follow-up Q&A will examine student and faculty legal rights and responsibilities regarding academic freedom and freedom of speech on college campuses. This panel is supported by LEARN and by a grant Dr. Emery received from the MCSII (Menard Center for the Study of Institutions and Innovations) at UW-Stout

This workshop is open to faculty, staff, and students.

To register: <https://my.uww.edu/SignUp/Registration/Details/17553>