This course introduces computational thinking and provides a broad high-level understanding of how computers and related technical developments are changing the world. Students will learn how computers are built and operated, and they will apply computational thinking skills such as algorithmic and procedural thinking, problem decomposition, pattern recognition, and abstraction to write programs and solve problems. Students will also study computing innovations such as the Internet, data and information, artificial intelligence and machine learning, human-computer interaction, and cryptography; and they will explore how these innovations affect privacy, security, intellectual property and other important issues.

This course consists of class meetings followed by the faculty-led travel study scheduled for Panama from Jan 2-15 2023. Contact the Office of Global Experiences Coordinator: Dan Colleran (collerad@uwv.edu) for program logistics, Contact the course faculty: Dr. Levas levass@uwv.edu for course academic expectations. Online applications are due by Friday, May 29th, 2022. The application is online at www.uwv.edu/international. The majority of the estimated Faculty-led course fee, as noted on the course application, will be charged to the student's account when enrolled by the registrar within the first two weeks of the semester. The program fee will be finalized later in the semester when participants have their travel documents and the university paid all expenses on behalf of the student. The student's accounts will then be adjusted if needed. Faculty-led travel study registration is not available via WINS registration. This course is consent of the faculty. Student participants can't add a travel study course on WINS or drop a travel study course via WINS once it has been added to their academic schedule. Failure to abide by the add/drop provisions of the Faculty-led Travel Study Program could result in severe financial penalties. Students are advised to refer to the application for more information on cancellation and refund policies.

This course consists of class meetings followed by the faculty-led travel study scheduled for Panama from Jan 2-15 2023. Contact the Office of Global Experiences Coordinator: Dan Colleran (collerad@uwv.edu) for program logistics, Contact the course faculty: Dr. Levas levass@uwv.edu for course academic expectations. Online applications are due by Friday, May 29th, 2022. The application is online at www.uwv.edu/international. The majority of the estimated Faculty-led course fee, as noted on the course application, will be charged to the student's account when enrolled by the registrar within the first two weeks of the semester. The program fee will be finalized later in the semester when participants have their travel documents and the university paid all expenses on behalf of the student. The student's accounts will then be adjusted if needed. Faculty-led travel study registration is not available via WINS registration. This course is consent of the faculty. Student participants can't add a travel study course on WINS or drop a travel study course via WINS once it has been added to their academic schedule. Failure to abide by the add/drop provisions of the Faculty-led Travel Study Program could result in severe financial penalties. Students are advised to refer to the application for more information on cancellation and refund policies.

This class sampler of 6 classes by 6 different instructors allows Honors Students the opportunity to take courses offered by different departments on campus. For instance, plans include class on self-reflective art, sustainability (with an ecocritical walk), interactive geography, financial savvy, immigration/sociology, and flash fiction. Please note that the first class on 9/9 will take place at 3PM instead, and the Honors Director will contact you with the art studio location. The six classes are offered every other Friday at 10:00 AM-11:30 AM (9/9, 9/23, 10/7, 10/21, 11/4, 11/18). Please contact kamt@uw.edu for additional information. This class is S/NC and is 1 CR.

Sustainability is the new mantra for communities, nations, and companies around the world. The elusive term means many things to many people, but what is at its heart? And, should we be striving to achieve it? In this course, we will explore the history and origins of the term, how it is used within academia, governments, and corporations and sort the greenwashing from actual structural change. Along the way, we will explore practical attempts to achieve sustainability and undertake an audit of our own.
